

9/9 Ch. 1.2

reduced echelon form: ① Any row consisting entirely zero are grouped on the bottom of the matrix

② The first nonzero element of each other row is 1, this element is called leading 1

③ The leading 1 of each row after the first row is positioned to the right of the leading 1 of the previous row.

④ All other elements in the column containing leading 1 are zero.

leading 1: The first nonzero element of each other row in a matrix being reduced echelon form. It must be 1

pivot: 每一行排基準點